While entering the Chora, the small stylish Antheia hotel (10 rooms) is looking forward to welcoming you.

The trim and cozy place you are to view prepossesses you right away for lovely days of rest and relaxation.

This draped with flowers of the local flora colorful two-storey building, with views to the areas of “Themonies” and “Aghios Eleftherios”, next to the village’s center, enjoys the most convenient location for a sally to the lovely squares of the Chora and for reaching the island’s beaches.

You may arrive by car at the front of the hotel and park at the nearby communal parking lot.

Our objective had been to maintain the elements of the island’s old stone-built edifices -tiled floors everywhere, small wood-beamed balconies- while providing the comforts demanded of a modern establishment.

Each room had been smartly equipped and individually furnished with all due respect to tradition but also to the guests’ needs. In the light-filled chaste style reception you may be treated with a coffee or a pastry and experience a feeling of sweetness and warmth as if the place had already been familiar to you.

Our aim is making you come again and again just as has happened to the guests we already had during these few years of operating-Antheia opened in 2005.
