The owner Evaggelia is a polite and efficient young lady who looks after her guest with her typical Alonissos hospitality. She was born on Alonissos and knows every little secret of the island. She can guide you how to spend your day and have the best vacation according to your preferences.

The delightful little fishing village of Votsi has very few concessions to tourism. It remains a very traditional Greek harbor village with a couple of local shops plus a mini-market, five taverns, and a friendly sleepy atmosphere where time seems to stand still. Lazy days can be spent at the small pebbly beach in the bay swimming in very clear water.... or just whiling away your time, watching the comings and goings of the small fishing boats in the harbor.
