Apanemia started in 1998 as a seafront taverna with rent rooms in the east side of Triopetra beach or locally known as Koumanto beach. In an isolated and rugged bay in Southern Crete u can find the piece u desire. The beach is coarse sand and gently slopes down into the warm Libyan Sea. The beach is sheltered by the Triopetra rocks, and is wonderful for swimming snorkeling and fishing. The small village of Agios Pavlos is a mile to the east and the lively port of Agia Galini is about 35 minutes drive away. Apanemia has 5 double rooms with twin or double beds and a
